

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS
EASTERN DIVISION

PHILIP CHARVAT, individually and on behalf of a class of all persons and entities similarly situated,

Plaintiff

vs.

AEP ENERGY, INC.

Defendant

Case No. 1:14-cv-3121

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Preliminary Statement

1. Plaintiff Philip Charvat (“Plaintiff” or “Mr. Charvat”) brings this action to enforce the consumer-privacy provisions of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227, a federal statute enacted in 1991 in response to widespread public outrage about the proliferation of intrusive, nuisance telemarketing practices. See Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740, 745 (2012).

2. In violation of the TCPA, Defendant AEP Energy, Inc. (“Defendant” or “American Electric”) placed telemarketing calls to a number Mr. Charvat registered on the National Do Not Call Registry.

3. Mr. Charvat never consented to receive these calls.

4. Because telemarketing campaigns result in calls to hundreds of thousands or even millions of potential customers en masse, Mr. Charvat brings this action on behalf of a proposed nationwide class of other persons who received illegal telemarketing calls from or on behalf of American Electric.

5. A class action is the best means of obtaining redress for the Defendant's wide scale illegal telemarketing, and is consistent both with the private right of action afforded by the TCPA and the fairness and efficiency goals of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Parties

6. Plaintiff Philip Charvat is a resident of the state of Ohio.

7. Defendant AEP Energy, Inc. is an energy company that is headquartered in this district.

Jurisdiction & Venue

8. The Court has federal question subject matter jurisdiction over these TCPA claims. Mims v. Arrow Financial Services, LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740 (2012).

9. Venue is proper because the Defendant is a resident of this district.

TCPA Background

10. In 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA to regulate the explosive growth of the telemarketing industry. In so doing, Congress recognized that "[u]nrestricted telemarketing . . . can be an intrusive invasion of privacy [.]" Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, Pub. L. No. 102-243, § 2(5) (1991) (codified at 47 U.S.C. § 227).

The TCPA prohibits telemarketing calls to numbers listed on the Do Not Call Registry, unless the caller has the recipient's signed, written consent

11. The National Do Not Call Registry allows consumers to register their telephone numbers and thereby indicate their desire not to receive telephone solicitations at those numbers. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2). A listing on the Registry “must be honored indefinitely, or until the registration is cancelled by the consumer or the telephone number is removed by the database administrator.” Id.

12. The TCPA and implementing regulations prohibit the initiation of telephone solicitations to residential telephone subscribers to the Registry. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2).

13. A person whose number is on the Registry, and who has received more than one telephone call within any twelve-month period by or on behalf of the same entity in violation of the TCPA, can sue the violator and seek statutory damages. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5).

14. The regulations exempt from liability a caller who has obtained the subscriber’s signed, written agreement to receive telephone solicitations from the caller. 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2)(ii). That agreement must also include the telephone number to which the calls may be placed. Id.

The TCPA imposes vicarious liability on third-parties who do not physically dial the calls

15. Under the TCPA, a seller of a product or service may be vicariously liable for a third-party marketer’s violations of Section 227(c), even if the seller did not physically dial the illegal call, and even if the seller did not directly control the marketer who did. In re Joint Pet. filed by Dish Network, LLC, FCC 13-54 ¶ 37, 2013 WL 193449 (May 9, 2013) (“FCC Ruling”).

16. A seller is liable under Section 227(c) when it has authorized a telemarketer to market its goods or services. Id. ¶ 47.

17. Additionally, a seller may be vicariously liable for violations of those provisions under principles of apparent authority and ratification. Factors relevant to a finding of vicarious liability include:

- a. Whether “the seller allows the outside sales entity access to information and systems that normally would be within the seller’s exclusive control, including . . . access to detailed information regarding the nature and pricing of the seller’s products and services or to the seller’s customer information.”
- b. Whether the outside sales entity can “enter consumer information into the seller’s sales or customer systems[.]”
- c. Whether the outside sales entity has “the authority to use the seller’s trade name, trademark and service mark[.]”;
- d. Whether “the seller approved, wrote or reviewed the outside entity’s telemarketing scripts.”; and
- e. “Whether the seller knew (or reasonably should have known) that the telemarketer was violating the TCPA on the seller’s behalf and the seller failed to take effective steps within its power to force the telemarketer to cease that conduct.”

Id. ¶ 46.

Factual Allegations

American Electric places telemarketing calls to the Plaintiff

18. On March 7, 2014 and April 22, 2014, the Plaintiff received telephone calls from telemarketing representatives calling from American Electric.

19. The caller informed the Plaintiff at the beginning of each call that he was calling “on behalf of AEP Energy”.

20. On the March 7, 2014 call, the caller identified himself as “Gabriel”. On the April 22, 2014 call, the caller identified himself as “David Vanderlaan”.

21. The callers claimed that American Electric offered to lower the Plaintiff’s energy bill by up to 7% if he switched to American Electric’s service.

22. With both calls the American Electric representative requested information from the Plaintiff’s energy bill, and attempted to persuade him to sign up with American Electric.

23. During one of the calls, the Plaintiff was given the website www.AEPEnergy.com.

24. On both calls, the Plaintiff was given the number (614) 385-1990 for the company that was calling.

25. Upon information and belief, American Electric has received direct complaints relating to telemarketing from that number, but continues participating in these telemarketing campaigns and deriving business from them in spite of such complaints. AEP thereby ratified the telemarketing complained of herein.

26. There are multiple complaints on the internet related to that phone number, including:

- A. “AEP energy trying to get you to switch electric carriers.” May 24, 2013.
- B. “This number shows up on my caller id few times a day. I dont want this number calling me.” May 28, 2013.
- C. “Stop calling me.” March 26, 2014.

See <http://800notes.com/Phone.aspx/1-614-385-1990> (Last Visited April 23, 2014).

27. The Plaintiff never consented in any fashion to these telephone calls, and had no business relationship with this entity.

28. Both of the calls were unwanted telemarketing solicitations.

29. Plaintiff is not a customer of Defendant and has not provided Defendant with his personal information or telephone number.

30. Both calls were placed to a telephone number that Plaintiff had listed on the national Do Not Call Registry more than two years prior to these telephone calls to Plaintiff.

American Electric authorizes third-party marketers to generate sales

31. American Electric uses telemarketing to generate sales. It places telemarketing calls directly, and also uses third-party telemarketing companies. The company calling the Plaintiff was a third party telemarketing company hired by the Defendant.

32. American Electric has controlled or had the right to control these third-party marketers by through sanction or termination.

33. American Electric provides these third-party marketers with access to information and systems within American Electric's exclusive control, including access to detailed information regarding the nature and pricing of American Electric's services. In the calls to the Plaintiff, the parties calling offered to check Plaintiff's information to see if he qualified for American Electric's promotions.

34. American Electric's third-party marketers have the right and the ability to use American Electric's trade name, trademark and service mark. Each of the calls to the Plaintiff started with the calling party claiming to be calling "on behalf of AEP Energy", and on one of the calls when the Plaintiff inquired about the company's website that was calling him, he was given the website www.AEPEnergy.com.

35. Upon information and belief, AEP had nonexistent policies, practices and procedures to avoid calling telephone numbers that were on the DNC Registry. If such policies, practices and procedures existed they were insufficient and/or were not established and implemented with due care.

Class Action Allegations

36. As authorized by Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of a class of all other persons or entities similarly situated throughout the United States.

37. The class of persons Plaintiff proposes to represent is tentatively defined as all persons within the United States whose phone numbers had been registered on the Do Not Call Registry for 31 days or longer, and who, within the four years before the filing of the initial Complaint, received more than one telemarketing call within any twelve-month period from, or on behalf of, the Defendant.

38. The class as defined above is identifiable through phone records and phone number databases.

39. The potential class is so numerous that individual joinder of these persons is impracticable.

40. Plaintiff is a member of the class.

41. There are questions of law and fact common to Plaintiff and to the proposed class, including but not limited to the following:

- a. Whether American Electric violated the TCPA by engaging in advertising by unsolicited telemarketing calls;
- b. Whether American Electric has any defense(s) to engaging in a telemarketing campaign to individuals on the National Do Not Call Registry;
- c. Whether the Plaintiff and class are entitled to statutory damages as a result of American Electric's actions.

42. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of class members.

43. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the class because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the class, he will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class, and he is represented by counsel skilled and experienced in class actions, including TCPA class actions.

44. Common questions of law and fact predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and a class action is the superior method for fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The only individual question concerns identification of class members, which will be ascertainable from records maintained by Defendant and/or its agents.

45. The likelihood that individual members of the class will prosecute separate actions is remote due to the time and expense necessary to prosecute an individual case.

46. Plaintiff is not aware of any litigation concerning this controversy already commenced by others who meet the criteria for class membership described above.
